NEW YORK HERALD, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 8, 1868.-TRIPLE SHEET.

THE STATE CAPITAL.

Organization of the Legislature of 1868.

Election of Wm. Hitchman for Speaker and C. W. Armstrong for Clerk of the Assembly.

THE PIRST POLITICAL TILT OF THE SESSION.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE HERALD.

ALHANY, Jan. 7, 1868. It was a few minutes past eleven by the old mahogany amed clock imbedded in the wall over the south door in the Assembly chamber when that body was called to erder to-day by the cierk of the previous session. The members had already assembled in the House, while a miscellaneous crowd of both sexes had gathered in the lebbles and corridors. The male portion included for the most part lobbyists and others interested in the work of the coming session. The females were widows er indigent mothers seeking appointments for their youngsters as pages and messengers. The galleries were densely througed and even the portion reserved for the ladies was almost wholly occupied by the sterner Constitutional Convention, has been restored to its enginal arrangement of upholstery and has been furnished with very rich and elegant new carpeting. Its bad ventilation is still unremedied, so that, like many a previous session, the present will doubtless prove latal to some one or more whose lungs and constitution are timable to witastand the noxious effects of three or four hours' daily sitting in its close and fettid atmosphere. The deaks have been all newly varnished and the apartment is quite right-looking from the new paint. The same black strip runs along the wall over the epeaker's head, insectibed in white with the words of Lincoin:—"I have the most solemn oath registerd in heaven—to preserve, protect and defend the government."

The Assembly, personally spaaking, is a fine appearing body. The men are not handsome and very lew are dignified looking; but the semi-circles of desks present a rare array of earnest, practical men. They seem for the most part to be farmers, merchants and workingmen. There are few lawyers or professional men in comparison with previous bodies. The press has about a dozen representatives among the members in the Legislature. The New York delegation has a remarkable number of young men; but their older compeers feel proud of them, for they have certainly shown, brief as the time has been, uncommon ability and eloquence. The swearing in of the members was next proceeded with. As their names were called parties of three or four advanced to the front of the desk, and all touching the same Bible took the oath, which was administered by the Secretary of State, Homer A. Nelson. Several members affirmed.

The relative vore vote for Speaker resulted as follows:—Wittam Huchman. All the members were present, 128 in number—an attendance which experience teaches will seldom be equalled on any future day of the session. Mr. Pitts woted for Mr. Pitts and Mr. Pitts voted for Mr. Bitts and Mr. Pitts woted for Mr. Bitts and Mr. Pitts woted for Mr. Pitts and Mr. Pitts woted for Mr. Pitts and M eriginal arrangement of upholstery and has been furlitchman to the chair.

The new Speaker is a man of gentlemanly presence, ad although quite nervous on assuming the chair, gave romise later in the day of becoming an unexceptionable. presiding officer.

Cornelius W. Armstrong was chosen clerk by a de-sided majority. He has been long acquainted with the routine of business in the capital, and will be an efficient eided majority. He has been long acquainted with the routine of business in the capitai, and will be an efficient officer.

The Senate in the meantime was called to order by Lieutenant Governer Woodford, who made the body quite a radical speech. The work of organization being completed, a message to that effect was sent to the Governer and to the Assembly. It looked as though the Lieutenant-Governor was facetiously inclined to show the extremes of the Senate to the other House, for in making up this committee he selected Messers. Tweed, whose portly proportions are so well known, and Williams, a gentleman considerably below even the medium height. A smile stele over the faces of the House and gallery when the "Big Sachem" Tweed made his appearance side by side with his diminitude brother Senator.

When the Assembly had been duly organized the usual committees were appointed, and Colonel Hastings, the Governor's private secretary, soon after presented the Governor's private secretary, soon after presented the Governor's sessage. A scene rather uncomplimentary to his Excellency ensued. The Clerk took the Message and had hardly commenced, when the crowd in the gaileries leaped over the benches in their anxiety to get out of doors. Even the members, to the extent of fully one-half their number, rose from their seats, donned their more polite and more stocal brethren the duty of hearing the reading of the document.

The first gun between the two political parties was fired to-day. The democratis have declared their intention to make this a model legislature so far as retronohment is concerned. In the Senate Mr. Murphy opened the ball by offering a resolution to cut down the number of offices and the malaries. The republican majority subsequently smended the resolution so as to make it concurrence in the resolution to out down the number of offices and the malaries. The republican majority in the lower house to abandon the distribution for patronage which would confirm their ascendancy. Subsequently Mr. Fitts, republ ten by a straight party vote—again laying the charge aconsistency to the democrats. In the little trai of i thus far the republicans have obtained the advan-of their opponents.

NEW YORK LEGISLATURE.

ALBANY, Jan. 7, 1868. The Senate was called to order at eleven o'clock by Lieutenant Governor Woodstone, who administered the eath of office to the Senators. There was a full attendance of Senators. ORGANIZATION OF THE SENATE-ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

James Terwilliger, of Syracuse, was re-elected Cterk; John H. Kemper, Sergeant-at-Arms; Geo. H. Krapp, Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms; Chas. B. Schram, Door

Reoper, and Nathaniel Saxton, David Shields and Elisha

T. Burdick, Assistant Doorkeepers.

Bir. Follows moved that a select committee of three be appointed to confer with a like committee of the Assembly and report what officers are necessary for each House, and what ought to be their compensation.

Tabled.

Tabled.

Committees were appointed to inform the Governor and the Assembly that the Sonate had organized and was prepared for business; and subsequently the Governor's annual message was presented by Colonel Hastings, the Governor's private secretary, and read at length by the clerk. After the Sepators had been sworn in the President length by the clerk.

After the Senators had been sworn in the President actressed them as follows:

Sinarous.—It becomes my pleasant daty at the opening of our seasion to hid you welcome. We stand on the threshold of which the welfare alike of our state and matten largely depends. Although the harvests of last autumn were abundant, sithough no pestilence has wristed our land and no organized armed resistance to law exists within our borders, still we must all realize that general abulety and district pervade commercial circles, paralyzing business activity and industrial enterprace, and that all our people await the future with someonde. It is your privilege as well as your duty to do much towards aliaying this alarm. You can labor for the restoration of an absolute and actual economy in public expenditures—an economy which shall be seen in the next tax levy, and thus be appreciated by the people. You can largely insist upon a rigid accountability of all public servents. You can arrest hasty legislation, prevent the enactment of needless and cumbersome laws; initiate wise and considerate reforms and resolutely maintain the existing saleguard of public order and personal security. I know that these are threadbare axioms, and seem but idle platitudes; and yet unless we make them actual vertices in our official action we shall not only fail in our duty, but the State will suffer but. Not only are our people apprehensive in regard to our State interests and legislation, but there is much in our national affairs to awaken patriotic solicitude. Partial disorder and an unnatural, deplorable but still necessary subordination of the civil to the military law prevail in States lately in robellion. The restoration of those States to their just and constitutional relations with the federal government, and to their normal condition of earlier is delayed by an unfortunate collision between the President and Congress. As Senators of New York you may not be called upon to not directly upon these questions, and yet unless of o

Mr. Krady asked unanimous consent to introduce a bill repeating the Metropolitan Excise law. Objected to, A recess was taken till four o'clock P. M. for the purpose of drawing for seats.

The members reassembled at four o'clock, and after drawing for seats adjourned.

The Court of Appeals-Resignation of Judge

Porter.

[From the Albany Argus, Jan. 6.]

We understand that John R. Porter has resigned his place on the Bench of Appeals, leaving the vacancy to be filled until the next judicial election (1869) by the Governor and Senate. Judge Porter, originally appointed to fill a vacancy, was elected to the court in 1865, and his term would not expire till the end of six years. He goes to New York. We shall not assume to conjecture goes to New York. We shall not assume to conjecture how far the judgment of the Constitutional Convention in condemnation of the Court of Appeals may have influenced this determination. The political majority that decided to place the present court is commission and to creat an entirely new tribunal, was of the same unfortunate partisan complexion as the court itself. The judgment passed upon the court was uttered by its own friends. A decided step, however, has been taken towards the reconstruction of the court and its renvigoration with the spirit of constitutional law by the election of Martin Grover. Another election will place this tribunal in the position from which it was wrested by the strain and pressure of civil war and make it once more a stronghold in defence of public right and personal liberty.

The following is the day calendar in the Court of Appeals for to-morrow:—Nos. 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 24, 28.

GENERAL MEADE.—We have some advices which induce the belief that it is still a question whether or not General Meade will accept the command of this District. However, he may be with us at any time, but may not come at all.—Atlanta New Era, Jan 1.

THE FIRE IN THE TAUNTON LOCOMOTIVE WORKS. [From the Evening Telegram of yesterday.] Bosros, Jan. 7, 1868.

The fire broke out in the Taunton locomotive works this morning about six o clock in the building known as the old machine shoe which was the first one erected !

by Mr. Mason. The new buildings tately erected by the company were not seriously damaged, but the one where the fire originated was wholly consumed, together with a quantity of cotton machinery nearly completed. The total less will fail a little short of $100,000, which is fully covered by insurance. There will be no interruption whatever to the locomotive department of the establishment.

CITY POLITICS.

The Central Grant Club—Enthusinatic Gather-ing—A Grand Mass Meeting to be Hold.

which is rapidly increasing in numbers and influence, General Committee, corner of Twenty-third street and Broadway, Rufus A. Andrews in the chair.

The Committee on Delegates at Large reported the fol-

Broadway, Rafus A. Andrews in the chair.

The Committee on Delegates at Large reported the following names, which were unanimously adopted:—Major Generals Rufas Ingalls, Daniel Butterfield and Joseph C. Pinckney, Joseph Briggs, W. W. Powell, Hajor C. W. Branard, B. D. Penfield, Captain David Hart and Charles A. Tuttle.

The chairman of the Executive Committee announced that arrangements had been made for holding a grand Grant mass meeting on the anniversary of the victory of Fort Dousdason. This announcement was of course received with deafoning cheers.

The Committee on Finance reported the following gentlemen as the Finance Committee:—D. D. T. Marahall, Thomas Murphy, Robert Bonner, William A. Darling, A. B. Dittenhoeffer, Samuel Cantrell, George Starr, Almon W. Griswold, John J. Silicock and — Casady, This selection was unanimously adopted.

Several new campaign Grant Congs were given by the Music Committee.

Secator Lawr, having been called upon, made a brief speuch reviewing the past services of General Grant. He altuded capecially to the efforts he had recently made as Secretary of War to reduce the expanses of that department, thus giving an earnest of his determination, if elected, to secure an economical administration of the general government.

Mr. E. W. DELAPILLO SHITH was the next speaker. He said they had fought for four lone years against disunion and slavery, and they were now ready to fight for four more long years to restore the Union and harmonize and settle the sectional interests of our country. The time had passed by when questions merely of a moral or sanitary character, or even questions in regard to local and municipal government, could absorb the attention of the country. No, we must return to the same fe eiling which animated Americans in 1776, and patriotism demanded that we should occupy ourselves solely in preserving that respect for the constitution and reverence for law which was the most marked trait of Angio Saxons. Mr. Smith closed by urging the claims of General Grant to the

THE NEWARK SPIRITUALISTS.

A Disciple Offers Herself as a Sufferer for Truth and Is Locked Up.

Yesterday morning the woman Mrs. Roeves, whose onnection with the spiritualist band has been already mentioned, visited the station house and informed the mentioned, visited the station house and informed the the officer in charge that she had come to suffer for the truth's sake, as did Dr. McEwen. The chief was called, and he at once save orders for the woman's confinement in the station house cells. She declares that she is God, Christ, the Virgin Mary and Eve, and that she is capable of doing all things. During a conversation Mrs. Reeves stated that on Christmas Day she became "influenced by the power;" that she was now the mother of America, as Washington was the father, and that she was glad she was "suffering for the truth's sake." She also said that her heart had been removed to another part of her body, and made other equally curious assertions. During the entire conversation the woman moved her hands around, enapping her fingers and making wild gestures. She is a large, well developed woman, with black hair. She has considerable property, but she has mortgaged it to the amount of $400, which sum she has wasted in the furtherance of her absurd ideas. Yesterday afternoon several physicians called to see her, and all of them pronounced her inrane on all matters pertaining to her religious dogmas. She is still confined in a cell at the powce station, as the officials are perplexed as to what course to pursue.

In justice to the stockholders of the Publishing Company, to whom the engine house in Garden street belongs, it may be remarked that they have never compromised with the ghouls, nor has the building been used as a headquarters. The statement that McEwen occupied as bed in the house is denied, as well as the assertion that he came out of a room where two ladies were sleeping. The woman who was arrested for exposing her person had never been in the engine house, nor had McEwen been there for eight months before his arrest. The company aforesaid repudiate all connection or sympathy with spiritualism, which they regard as a scourge and a delusion. the officer in charge that she had come to suffer for the

INHUMAN PUNISHMENT AT THE HOUSE OF REFUGE IN

[From the Evening Telegram of yesterday.] ROCHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 7, 1868. Another case of cruel punishment has occurred at Another case of cruel punishment has occurred at the Western House of Refuge in this city. H. O. Wood, principal of the Refuge School, after whipping Nicholas Christ in a barbarous manner on the bare back, kicked him with the toe of his boot behind the ear and in the side, causing a painful and dangerous wound. Mr. Wood alies a that the boy had stamped on the floor of the achool room in the usual way of cheering. The affair has been investigated by a committee of the Board of Managers. The Democrat of this morning says:—"Magistrates might as well stop sending boys here for light offences. The institution as at present managed is only calculated to make them hardened criminals."

Schra Wide World, Hildreth, from Charleston for New York (before reported), was discovered on the latinus in the breakers at Hatteras inlet by steamer James A Gary, from Wilmington, NC, for Ballimore, Captain Hall immediately lowered a boat and went to her assistance, and after three hours work suocecided in getting off the officers and crew, excepting Capt Chas Hildreth, who had fallen from the rigging at 3 o'clock that morning and was drowned. The following is the report of Mr James W Booth, first officer:—Saled from Charleston for New York Dec 25, 1867; experienced heavy weather on the 29th, in lat 35 28, lon 74 58; had stern stove in and vessel became unmanageable; kept off for Hatteras inlet, with heavy gales from NNE; finding it impossible to get into the inlet, came to mohor in 5 fathoms water, being unable to keep to sea; on the Sit, the wind weering to SSE, commenced to drag anchors, and at 3 AM lat inst struck on the SW breakers of Hatteras inlet, the vessel full of water. The captain was lost overboard out of the rigging, where he and the crew were lashed. At 9 AM the captain and crew of atsamer James A Gary, which was at anchor in the inlet, came to our assistance and succeeded in getting us asfely to the beach.

Wellington has gone from New London to her assistance.

STEANTUJ JOHN B McDAVIDSON, from Wilmington, NC, for Boston, before reported missing, had been thoroughly repaired recently. She was owned by Capit R Stevenson, of Wilmington, and E H Jones, of New York. The latter was one of the number on board, having assumed charge of the steamer for the trip to New York. Besides Mr Jones, there were on board John H Marshall, of Wilmington, sailing captain; George Frice, of Smithville, engineer, two firemen (one white and one colored), a steward and a deck hand (both white). The steamer must have encountered the heavy gale which blew the night after she put to sea and day following, during which she doubtless went down with all on board.

Notice to Mariners.

The New Haven Pelladium of the th inst says:—
We have been informed that the Heach Can Buoy, the Fort Can Buoy, and one other (probably the Shoe Ground Bnoy) in New Haven harbor, are all out of place and have drifted to the eastward. The Beach Buoy has been out of place since august iast. The soft Roona Arabell, Captain Highland, with a cargo of oysters, went ashore recently in consequence of the dritted bnoys. These can buoys have for years past been removed before cold weather, and others put down, but this season it has been neglected. It should be attended to immediately, or serious disasters may be caused.
